

Mind Map Notes Example

Mind maps are a form of note taking that allows for notation of relationships and connections. Many students who are visual learners do well using this note taking method.

Many people who use this method of note taking will draw their notes by free-hand. If you are interested in a digital form, there are many options available for free to use. These can be found in an online format or by app for your phone!