Course Requirements: To maximize the potential to complete this course, a student should attend all class session, complete all homework assignments, and complete all examinations. The specific course requirements are listed on the individual instructor’s course information sheet.

Course Evaluation:

Please see the instructor’s course information sheet for specific items used in evaluating student performance.

Attendance Policy: Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student’s responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have “Never Attended” by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of “X” or “F” as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student’s responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student’s responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

While slang, regional idioms, and informal kinds of self-expression are appropriate in some contexts, they are out of place in academic writing. Writing instructors and professors in courses across the campus expect all students to demonstrate proficiency in using the conventions of academic English in their written work, whether it is in-class exams or take-home essays. Each instructor may also add additional requirements regarding written assignments that are contained in your syllabus.

By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be” (Faculty Handbook 4.1.1.1) – How PERFECT for this class !!

THE RULES:

Pages 11-15 of the South Plains Student Guide highlights topics and procedures of Student Conduct and Penalties for Misconduct. I suggest you read this. Here are the highlights as they fit this class:

Academic Integrity: Cheating of any type is a serious matter and will NOT be tolerated. This includes cheating in any form on tests, quizzes, homework, and/or assignments (such as copying someone’s exam or assignments), and plagiarism.

According to the South Plains College website,

<http://www.southplainscollege.edu/library/smartstarts/mod6/04-plagiarism.html>, “plagiarism is presenting the words or ideas of someone else as your own without proper acknowledgment of the source. It is okay to use the ideas of other people, but you do need to correctly credit them. When you quote people – or even when you summarize or paraphrase information found in books, articles, or Web pages – you must acknowledge the original author.”

(If you do not know/understand what constitutes plagiarism, or if you need further clarification ask me or look it up ... ignorance will not be an excuse.) Do not even THINK ABOUT cheating in any way.

However, if you do and if you are caught the following WILL happen ...

1. You will receive a ZERO on the assignment and we will have a discussion
2. You will be ineligible to receive any extra credit points
3. You may be dropped ONE letter grade at the end of the semester
4. IF you are caught a second time, you be dropped from the class with an F

THIS HOLDS TRUE FOR ANY ASSIGNMENT – EVEN AN EXTRA CREDIT ASSIGNMENT. Penalization because of plagiarism/cheating is the consequence of YOUR choices and YOUR actions. It is not something I am doing to YOU – it is what YOU are doing to YOU.

This is serious. I am serious. DO NOT DO IT!! Take the low grade for not-knowing/doing the material, rather than the above repercussions for cheating.

Student Behavior: This is college, and I view you as an adult. Please act like one. Be courteous, be respectful, think before you speak. Do not disrupt class. If you are disruptive with your online responses or comments, you may be dropped from the class.

Attendance: Here’s how it works in this class:

“Participation” in this online class is mandatory – you must be active. There are numerous assignments which should force you to log-on continuously. I understand that each of you has your own schedule and will be logging-on at different times. That’s fine. All that is expected of you is that you GET THE WORK DONE!!

Each assignment and discussion has a dictated due DATE and TIME. It is your responsibility to get the work done and submitted to me by the designated time/date. Therefore, since this is a virtual classroom, attendance will be taken according to completion/submission of Discussions, Quizzes, Assignments, and projects.

If you are unable to log-on or complete your work for any reason, YOU MUST CONTACT ME ASAP! Excuses such as “The network was down,” or “I could not figure out how to send the assignment through the assignments function” are not acceptable. In short, plan ahead and do not wait until the last minute to submit your assignments. It is always okay to turn in assignments early although discussion board postings should be done with the calendar schedule.

Administrative Drop Policy: Due to Financial Aid and South Plains College requirements for participation/attendance a student who fails to turn in 5 assignments during the semester may be dropped with a grade of “X” or “F” from the course. Assignments in this context refer to the written chapter assignments as well as test and/or postings to the discussion board.

Courtesy and Respect: I am your instructor, and though I may joke around with you please don’t lose sight of the fact that I am still your instructor. So please do not address me with “hey,” “yo,” etc. Emails must also abide by Standard Written English. Standard Written English, courtesy and respect is expected in all manners of correspondence, and I will do the same. THANKS!!

THE GRADES:

Introduction Module: The first thing that you will need to complete is the introduction module. This includes your course agreement, syllabus quiz, and introduction post and is worth 50 points. Your course agreement is a contract between you and me that you have read the syllabus and you agree to the terms of the class. If you have not completed the course agreement by the given due date, you may be dropped from his class with an X. The syllabus quiz simply goes over things found within the syllabus. The introduction post requires an original post and 2 replies to classmates for full credit.

Quizzes: You will have 9 chapters quizzes that you must complete using the mheeducation.com website that accompanies the textbook (please see above for more information or log into Blackboard for directions on how to access this website). Each quiz will be worth 100 points, and consists of multiple choice, fill in the blank, true/false, and essay questions. These 9 quizzes combined count as more than half of your grade for this class – please take them seriously. When taking quizzes, SAVE your answers to each question as you go along. The computer may time-out and you run the risk of losing your work. I do NOT accept late quizzes due to fast paced nature of this course.

Critiques & Projects: You have one final project worth 250 points. It is a 4 page compare and contrast paper over a film – please refer to Blackboard for more detailed instructions/expectations. I do not accept late assignments unless your issue has been discussed with me. Things are due when they are due. Anything not turned in when collected is considered LATE and will not be accepted.

I suggest that the lengthy assignments/projects be typed in Word first and then copy/pasted to the SUBMISSIONS BOX of the assignment on Blackboard. The reason for this is that if you are idle in Blackboard for a certain length of time, it will boot you out; which means that your incomplete work will be lost. That will be very frustrating. So, if you know that you will be working on an assignment or project for a good amount of time, do it in Microsoft Word first.

Please follow these instructions: typed, double spaced, 12 font, 1" margins. Standard written English is EXPECTED on all written assignments. NO TEXT ABBREVIATIONS or LINGO. If Standard written English is not illustrated, points WILL BE DEDUCTED. Critiques/projects are NOT OPINION papers! I expect you to connect ideas from the prompted material to ideas found within your textbook. I also expect proper citations in APA format for every critique/project done within this class. I will deduct points or give you a zero for plagiarism if you fail to cite your sources properly.

DISCUSSIONS: Discussions require your posts and comments. You must read the instructions carefully for each one. Pay attention to the due dates/times! No late work will be accepted. Discussions are used in online courses for you to prove that you “get it;” that you understand the material, that you are reading the material, and that you are proficient enough in it to expand upon it in discussions. This is how face-to-face class interaction is substituted. It is very valuable and REQUIRED for this course.

Discussions should also be cited if using ideas/thoughts from the textbook – points will be deducted if you fail to cite your sources. Every discussion requires you to reply to at least 2 classmates in order to receive full credit. Your replies should contain substance, and be college-worthy, so that you are adding value to the discussion. Replies such as “I agree” or “great job” will not be accepted.

Please review the guidelines I have posted on proper "netiquette." Just because we don't see your face and/or hear your voice does not give you a free pass to be rude, crude, or hurtful. The computer is not a veil.

* REGARDLESS OF WHAT THE ASSIGNMENT IS... YOU ARE EXPECTED TO WRITE IN FORMAL GRAMMAR. I WILL NOT ACCEPT ANY TEXT MESSAGING ABBREVIATIONS!! THIS IS A CLASS...NOT A PHONE.... ****

Also, for Discussions... I expect you to include terms and definitions from the unit within the context of your answer. You will lose points if I do not see terms and definitions! Remember to always cite your sources at the end of your discussions.

 Most discussions are “closed” where you need to post your answer first, before you can see any of your classmate responses. I understand that students can manipulate this. I also understand that students can make mistakes when posting. But you need to understand that I need to grade YOUR work and comprehension of the material, not something you copied from a classmate. So, upon your 3rd “manipulation” of this set-up, you will receive a zero on the discussion for this and every manipulation moving forward. **

Your overall, class grade is compiled in the following way:

Introduction Module = 1 @ 50 points = 50 points
Quizzes = 9 @ 100 points each = 900pts
Discussions = 3 @ 100 points each = 300pts
Final Film Project = 1 @ 250 points each = 250pts
Total Points = 1500pts

Final Grades:

A = 1500 - 1350

B = 1349-1200

C = 1199-1050

D = 1049-900

F = 999 and below (F is the only "failing" grade)

THE GOOD NEWS:

I am a strong supporter of extra credits! I believe that in order to learn about other cultures/groups, participation and observation in cultural functions outside of the classroom is necessary. This may come in the form of attending public presentations, performances, exhibits, events, or watching videos, TV shows, as well as reading articles/books, text book chapter reviews, or DOING class presentations.

It needs to pertain to a minority group (or member(s) of) in the United States and set IN the United States.

I have already published one opportunity for extra credit. Check with me if there is something you want to do or watch. – you have free reign for extra credits as long as it fits the class. Find something that interests YOU and allows you to show your knowledge of the class. YOU have control of extra credits; do not wait for me to tell you to do them – you do them as you see fit!

NOTE:

If EVER you should have any questions, concerns, etc – contact me. That is what I am here for... I cannot help you if you don't talk to me.

More information on online courses is available at www.southplainscollege.edu/online.
