Course Specific Instructions: refer to individual instructor's course information sheet

Course Description: This course is an interdisciplinary, multi-perspective assessment of cultural, political, philosophical, and aesthetic factors critical to the formulation of values and the historical development of the individual and of society.

Course Purpose: This course is an introductory course designed to acquaint students with a broad understanding of how the arts interface with individual and societies. A holistic approach will be utilized to explore ideas of aesthetic and intellectual creation in order to understand the human experience across cultures.

Course Requirements: To maximize the potential to successfully complete this course, the student should attend all class meetings, complete all homework assignments in a timely manner, and complete all examinations including the final exam. Internet courses require the work to be completed in specific time periods.

Course Evaluation: Refer to the instructor's course information sheet for specifics on assignments and testing.

Attendance Policy: Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or "F" as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student's responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

See instructor's Course Information Sheet for additions to the attendance policy.

Disability Services Policy: Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland Student Health & Wellness Center 806-716-2577, Reese Center (also covers ATC) Building 8: 806-716-4675, Plainview Center Main Office: 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611, or the Health and Wellness main number at 806-716-2529. Academic Integrity Policy: It is the aim of the faculty of South Plains College to foster a spirit of complete honesty and a high standard of integrity. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences, possibly suspension.

- Cheating: Dishonesty of any kind on examinations or on written assignments, illegal possession of examinations, the use of unauthorized notes during an examination, obtaining information during an examination from the text-book or from the examination paper of another student, assisting others to cheat, alteration of grade records, illegal entry or unauthorized presence in an office are examples of cheating. Complete honesty is required of the student in the presentation of any and all phases of course work. This applies to quizzes of whatever length, as well as to final examinations, to daily reports and to term papers.

Plagiarism: Offering the work of another as one's own, without proper acknowledgment, is plagiarism; therefore, any student who fails to give credit for quotations or essentially identifiable expression of material taken from books, Internet resources, encyclopedias, magazines and other reference works, or from the themes, reports or other writings of a fellow student, is guilty of plagiarism.

Academic Integrity- See College Catalog, p. 23.

Unfortunately, it is necessary to remind all students that any form of cheating will not be tolerated. Cheating is cheating, whether plagiarism or copying another student's exam. Since the Internet has become a common source of information, it is important that you understand plagiarism and not neglect to include citations or footnotes on all papers. Please do not put yourself or others in the position of having cheated. If you are caught cheating at my discretion you may be removed from class.

Classroom Behavior:

___Although this is an online course there are still acceptable and unacceptable behaviors. I do want you to feel the academic freedom to ask questions of myself and other students. I do want all questions though to be academic in nature and respectful. We will cover many controversial subjects (race, sexuality, class) and I want you all to feel comfortable asking questions but there is to be no name calling during discussions and all posts must be respectful of everyone in the class. Also see the Attendance section!!

Diversity:

In this class, the teacher will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group differences and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it can be.

Attendance:

While this is an online class there will obviously not be the need for physical attendance. However working at regular intervals is paramount in student success so you need to be involved in the class every week either through your discussion topics, or handing in assignments. If you are not attending or participating in the course you may be dropped. If you miss four or more than four assignments over the course of the semester I may drop you with an X or an F. This includes missing discussions, papers, reading assignments, or tests. You have to do all of the activities in the class to be a part of the class. If you are not fully participating in discussions (doing the introductory post but not responding to others, or vice versa) and this becomes a pattern these may be counted in your missed assignments.

Accommodations:

Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland (Student Health & Wellness Office) 806-716-2577, Reese Center (Building 8) 806-716-4675, or Plainview Center (Main Office) 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611.

Grading: there are required reading and you must do these online and complete the questions and quizzes that are in the REVEL program provided through the book publisher. Each chapter has questions and a quiz that is worth around 40 points. They may vary a bit but are worth 50 on average. There are also weekly discussions that are worth 100 points and a final project that is worth 300 points.

16 Chapters of REVEL work	657 points
6 “weekly” discussions	700 points
Semester Project	400 points
Total	1757 points

Instructor Expectations: While much of the syllabus details what I expect of you as a student this section deals with what you can expect of me. If you send me an email on M, T, W, R, or F (by noon) you can expect a response within 24 hours. This does not mean that I will know the answer to your question, but if I don't then I will at least respond and let you know I got your email and am working on it. If you email on Friday afternoon, Sat or Sun then I may get back to you that day, but you can expect to hear from me by Monday afternoon. When grading assignments, I will typically have everything graded within a week of when it was originally due. This includes discussions. Feedback is very important and I will use it on the discussions. It is important that you read the feedback so that you do not repeat the same mistakes and lose points again for something that can be avoided. If you feel that I am not keeping up my end of the bargain as an instructor I certainly want you to feel free to speak with me about it. You can do this through email or a phone call. If for some reason you feel that you cannot talk to me about it then I would welcome you to speak with my Department Chair Dr. Peggy Skinner.

Textbook and Reading Assignments: A REVEL access has been provided for this course with our tuition. You do not need to purchase anything else. You must access this from the link on the real home page on blackboard.

Chapter Quizzes: There is a quiz for each chapter we will cover in the course. These will be made available for you at the appropriate times during the course. Each quiz question is usually worth 2 points. You may attempt each question twice but the second attempt will only be worth 1 points rather than 2. These are open book/open notes quizzes but it would be best to read the material before attempting to take the quiz. You will be able to track your progress on the My Grades page located on the course homepage as well as in the REVEL program. For the Revel work after chapter 3 you will typically only get one try to answer the questions, except on the chapter quiz and you will get 2 tries. You will need to pay attention to the material and try your best to score as well as you can.

Discussions- There will be threaded discussions in each weekly module. You are to answer the question posed in the discussion topic area. Most of the time these discussions will be applying the chapter we have read to some part of the modern world. You will not be able to do this well without reading the textbook first! You will not be able to see any other student's work until you create your own original post, to prevent students from simply copying others work. For your initial posting you need to have at least a 6- 8 sentence well-formed paragraph. You need to make the title of your discussion each time be your name. If your name is Bryan Smith, then that should be the name of your discussion thread, not "Discussion #4. This helps me track who is responding to whom. You are also required to respond to at least two (2) other student's postings. A well-formed post should be at least 6-8 sentences long with academic content and free of grammatical errors. Posting content less than this will result in losing points on the assignment. Comment on how their posting is similar to or different from your own. If you cannot make a 6-8 sentence paragraph responding to a single student then respond to 4 or 5. These discussion topics will only stay open for 4 days. Your original thread that you create with your name as the title is due 11:59 PM two days before the discussion closes. The responses will be due by 11:59 PM on the day it closes. These dates are listed on the calendar pages in the "Syllabus and Schedule" tab. Please notice what a large percentage of your overall grade the discussions are. These are important.

Academic level writing is expected on all assignments: Please do not use abbreviations, slang or idioms as this will hurt your grade. Follow standard rules of grammar on anything you turn in or email to me or another student.
