PREFERRED METHODS OF COMMUNICATION

Face-to-Face:

The best way to communicate with me is to raise your concerns during class. Often, students have the same or similar questions, and those issues are best addressed during our regularly scheduled class time. I will designate a time for questions during each class. You are encouraged to ask questions at that time.

However, if you have a concern that requires a more confidential setting (questions about grades or other more sensitive issues), you should plan to meet during scheduled office hours. Face-to-face communication, whether in person or online, is always the preferred mode of communication.

PLEASE NOTE: The 15 minutes between classes is my personal time. Even if I am at the podium in the classroom, this is not the time for student questions. Please ask during class or office hours.

Phone / Voicemail:

If you are calling with questions during scheduled office hours (and I am not already helping another student), a quick phone call can resolve many issues. My office phone number is 806-716-2178. Voicemail can also be very effective when used properly. If you must leave a voicemail, be sure to speak clearly. Leave your full name, course and section number, and clearly state what information you need from me. Include your SPC email address so that I may reply via email if I cannot return your call. Remember that I cannot call you back unless I happen to be in my office; this means I will NOT be returning any calls after office hours or on weekends. Voicemail messages that do not provide complete information will not be answered, so be prepared before you place the call. Oftentimes, an email is better suited to your needs.

Email & Blackboard Messages:

Email correspondence can be very effective when used properly. Please follow the proper format for business email correspondence (appropriate subject line, salutation, complete sentences in the body, closing, and signature). You can find a good description of the expectations for professional communication here: How to Write a Professional Email.

Every email you send to me for this class MUST specify BOTH Course & Section number in the subject line; if this information is missing, the email will be returned to you, no exceptions. Allow 1-2 business days for a reply. If you need to reach me right away, you may call or stop by my office during office hours.

Blackboard Messages can also be used for course correspondence. Because the messages are hosted from within Blackboard, you need not include course or section number. Messages will be answered during scheduled office hours every weekday morning.

IMPORTANT: Check your official SPC email (Outlook 365) regularly. All email correspondence from me will automatically be sent to your SPC email address. If you fail to check your email, you may miss important and often time-sensitive messages. If you have trouble with your email login, contact IT Support (806-716-2600) and get it fixed right away! This is your lifeline to the school!

ENGL1302 Course Description

This course is a continuation of ENGL 1301 and an intensive study of and practice in the strategies and techniques for developing researched-based expository and persuasive texts, along with being an introduction to literature. The course emphasizes effective and ethical rhetorical inquiry, including primary and secondary research methods; critical reading of a sampling of literary, verbal, visual, and multimedia texts; systematic evaluation, synthesis, and documentation of information sources; and critical thinking about evidence and conclusions.

Prerequisites:

- Successful completion of ENGL 1301.

Course Purpose:

English 1302 has a two-fold purpose: it encourages critical writing by introducing the students to research and writing from sources, and it introduces the students to the study of literature.

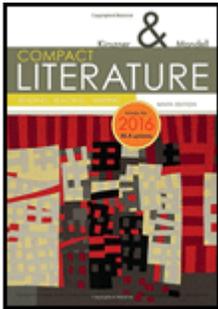

Core Curriculum Objectives:

- Communications skills—to include effective written, oral and visual communication
- Critical thinking skills—to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, as well as evaluation and synthesis of information
- Teamwork—to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal
- Personal Responsibility—to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making.

Learning Outcomes:

Upon the successful completion of this course, students will:

- Demonstrate knowledge of individual and collaborative research processes.
- Develop ideas and synthesize primary and secondary sources within focused academic arguments, including one or more research-based essays.
- Analyze, interpret, and evaluate a variety of texts for the ethical and logical uses of evidence.
- Apply critical thinking to the study of literature and write essays which demonstrate that critical thinking.
- Use edited American English to write in a style that clearly communicates meaning, builds credibility, and inspires belief or action.
- Apply the conventions of MLA style specific to the academic discipline of English
- Read and view videos of works of literature; analyze the use of literary devices (plot, point of view, theme, characterization, setting, symbolism, tone, etc.); participate in class discussions of the readings; and be tested over their understanding of the readings and lectures through quizzes, examinations, and/or written assignments.

Blackboard and Internet Access:

Blackboard is a website host for our class, where you access the e-book & quizzes, view and access homework, view and print supplemental materials, turn in your assignments, check your grades, view the syllabus, and email me. Should it become necessary, you may also attend online-synchronous class meetings.

You should visit the Instructional Technology Help Page for many resources to help you familiarize yourself with Blackboard. If you experience technology issues with Blackboard, please visit the Blackboard Help Page and complete the form. While it may be helpful for me to know when you experience technology problems, I am not the person to contact to resolve those issues.

Computer with Reliable Internet Access:

You must have access to a computer with a reliable internet connection with sufficient bandwidth to accommodate the needs of this class. While some of your assignments can be completed using a smartphone, you will need access to a laptop or desktop computer for many of your most heavily weighted assignments. If you do not have a computer with reliable, high-bandwidth internet access, you must plan time into your weekly schedule to use the SPC computer labs on one of the campuses or find a computer with reliable, fast internet access that you can use on a regular basis. This is required for the class. The SPC Levelland campus library lab is the only SPC library open on Sundays.

You must also have access to a word processing program that you can use to produce essays and other assignments that adhere to our formatting requirements. I recommend that you use Microsoft Word, although you are free to use other programs. You will not be exempted from fulfilling any part of the formatting requirements based upon the program you choose to use. Some file types are not accepted through our online interface; you must produce work that can be uploaded and opened, or you will receive a zero.

Additional Supplies:

Blue/black ink pen, 1 inch three-ring binder or a folder (to keep course assignments and notes), notebook paper or a spiral notebook.

DELIVERY OF INSTRUCTION

Attendance is required and necessary for your success. This class requires attendance twice per week at the scheduled class time. You are committing to attend class for the duration of each class period each week. Do not schedule work, appointments, or other activities during class time if at all possible. When you miss class, you will be counted absent, which has a negative impact on your outcomes. You may also miss graded participation activities that cannot be made up. It is your responsibility to be present for scheduled classes.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

Read this policy carefully. If you do not understand any part of the policy, ask for clarification NOW.

Attendance will be taken for ALL students, regardless of registration date, beginning on the first scheduled day of class. Attendance in this class is required and necessary for your success. You are expected to arrive on time, ready to participate, and attend the whole scheduled session. Every class day, you will be counted as present, tardy, or absent.

PRESENT:

To be counted as present, you must be present in the classroom when class begins and roll is taken. Furthermore, you must attend the whole class session until class is dismissed.

TARDY:

Arriving late to the beginning of class and leaving class before dismissal can create a disruption for you and your classmates. If you arrive late or leave early, you will be counted tardy. If you arrive late and leave early, you will be counted absent.

ABSENT:

If you are not present for a regularly scheduled class, you will be marked absent. In addition, if you arrive late to class and leave early, you will be marked absent. Only absences related to school sponsored activities or qualified, documented accommodations are exempted from this policy. All other absences, even absences due to periodic illness or doctor's visits, count toward your absence totals.

SCHOOL-SPONSORED ACTIVITIES & DOCUMENTED ACCOMMODATIONS:

Students involved in school-sponsored activities must present documentation from the appropriate coach/sponsor before they are absent from class. Likewise, confirmation of documented accommodations must be presented, discussed, and arranged before a student is absent from class. At that time, students may arrange for completing any in-class assignments they may miss. If those assignments are not completed and submitted according to the arrangements OR if no arrangements are made in advance of the absence, all policies in the syllabus and due dates posted in Blackboard/MindTap will remain in effect.

NOTES, ANNOUNCEMENTS, & MISSED ACTIVITIES:

Because attendance for this class is required, you are responsible for all material presented or discussed during class—including changes to the schedule—even when you are absent or tardy. You must still turn in all in-class or online assignments by the posted due date, even when absent, unless prior arrangements have been made. Participation activities or quizzes that you miss due to being tardy or absent cannot be made up.

I do not answer emails about what you missed in class. Please refer to your notes, the Blackboard Weekly folders, and/or the course schedule for this information. I suggest that you exchange contact information with classmates in case you need information between classes. You are always welcome to meet with me during scheduled office hours (face-to-face or ZOOM) to discuss this information.

EXCESSIVE ABSENCES AND TARDIES:

This class is scheduled to meet 31 times (excluding holidays) during the semester. You should make every possible effort to attend every class. If you think that you might miss more than three classes, you may want to consider dropping this class. More than three absences are considered excessive. Attendance is required and necessary for your success in this class. Arriving late to class is also considered a partial absence. When evaluating your attendance, tardies are also considered.

While I may refer you for academic counseling if you accumulate excessive absences and tardies, I will not drop you from this course. If you quit attending class and are not planning to return, I suggest you drop yourself before the last day to drop, which will result in a W on your records. Dropping will also remove you from the class roster, and you will no longer receive class emails. There may be other consequences of dropping a class, financial or otherwise. Check with an academic or financial aid advisor.

NOTE: If circumstances such as a documented family emergency, hospitalization, or an extended illness make prolonged or excessive absences unavoidable, you should contact the Dean of Students (Dr. Lynn Cleavinger's office at 806-716-2380). They can help you request accommodations from your professors and connect you with resources that may help you through difficult times. Most importantly, communicate with me—in advance if possible—so that we can make suitable arrangements for turning in your work. If no arrangements are made, all policies in the syllabus and due dates posted in Blackboard/MindTap will remain in effect.

LATE WORK

I do not accept late assignments except in very rare situations; therefore, if you forget to do an assignment, do not send me an email asking if you can make it up. However, there is a built-in grace period for some assignments, with a late penalty. To be successful in college, you must turn your work in on time.

Writing Assignments are heavily weighted assignments, accounting for 50% of your overall grade, so TurnItIn in Blackboard is set up to accept late submissions. Late submissions will receive a 10-point deduction for each day late, up to five days. After five days, you will receive a zero for the assignment. There is no guarantee that you will receive credit for work beyond the 5-day grace period; nevertheless, you should always submit your work as soon as possible, as no submission guarantees a zero.

NOTE: Some assignments (Presentations, Peer Reviews and Discussions, for example) depend upon timely submissions and interaction with your peers. Due to the nature of these assignments, it is imperative that you turn in your work on time. There will be no extensions or accommodations for late work for these assignments. You need to complete these tasks as assigned.

If you do not think that you will be able to complete an assignment before the due date, you should come speak to me right away. In some circumstances, I may grant an extension or offer some accommodation. However, once the due date has passed, no exceptions will be made. I expect you to stay on top of your work and advocate for yourself if you need help.

There will be no “extra credit” work available at the end of the semester. You earn your grade by the quality of work assigned during the semester that you turn in on time.

ENGL1302 COURSE EVALUATION

Graded Assignments:

Low Stakes Essays	20%
2 Low Stakes Essays
Researched Analysis Paper	30%
2 High Stakes Essay
Group Presentations	30%
3 Group Presentations
Discussion Boards & Participation	20%

GRADING POLICY

Your current grades and course average will be continuously available for you to view in our Blackboard course. Grades will be updated every couple of weeks. I recommend that you check your grades regularly.

Your final grade will be based upon the earned average at semester's end, with no "rounding up" of grades.

Grades are assigned according to this scale:

- A Excellent work that exceeds expectations; 90% to 100% on graded work.
- B Very good work that is above average; 80% to 89% on graded work.
- C Average work that meets the basic goals of the assignment; 70% to 79% on graded work.
- D Below average work that is deficient in one or more area; 60% to 69% on graded work.
- F Unsatisfactory work that does not meet the minimum expectations of the assignment, work that is incomplete or does not follow the assignment instructions, work that is found to have been plagiarized; 0 to 59% on graded work.

Essay Assessment Guidelines:

- The "A" essay is perfectly formatted, with few to no spelling, wrong word and/or grammatical errors. It also has an excellent title, strong thesis, excellent organizational strategies, good transitions, an introduction with a hook, a thoughtful conclusion, and well-supported main points in the body paragraphs. The writing is lively and intelligent; there are no sentence structure errors.
- The "B" essay at the 1301 level contains all of the above with one or two more errors.
- The "C" essay has a thesis, introduction, and conclusion, but may lack support and/or has other obvious errors.
- The "D" essay contains one or more of the following problems: lack of a clear thesis, lack of a strong organizational pattern, weak introduction and/or conclusion, formatting errors, multiple spelling and grammatical errors, and/or sentence structure issues (fragments and run-ons).
- The "F" essay does not meet the minimum expectations for a 1301-level essay assignment. Some examples of "F" essays are 1) those written on a topic that has not been approved; 2) those that do not meet the minimum word count; or 3) those that are not written in the required format.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Plagiarism and Cheating: Students are expected to do their own work on all projects, quizzes, assignments, and papers. Failure to comply with this policy may result in an F for the assignment and/or an F for the course if circumstances warrant. Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated (see General Catalog, 23).

Plagiarism violations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Using Artificial Intelligence websites or apps to generate all or part of a paper or other assignment;
2. Turning in a paper that has been purchased, borrowed, or downloaded from another writer or from an online site;
3. Cutting and pasting together information from books, articles, other papers, or online sites without providing proper documentation; this includes improper collusion with other students;
4. Using direct quotations (three or more words) from a source without showing them to be direct quotations and citing them; or

5. Missing in-text citations.

Cheating violations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Obtaining an examination by stealing or collusion;
2. Discovering the content of an examination before it is given;
3. Using an unauthorized source of information (notes, textbook, texting, internet, Quizlet, etc.) during an examination, quiz, or homework assignment;
4. Entering an office or building to obtain unfair advantage;
5. Taking an examination for another;
6. Altering grade records;
7. Copying another's work during an examination or on a homework assignment;
8. Rewriting another student's work in Peer Editing so that the writing is no longer the original student's;
9. Taking pictures of a test, test answers, or someone else's paper.

I REPORT ALL INSTANCES OF PLAGIARISM, CHEATING, AND OTHER FORMS OF ACADEMIC DISHONESTY TO THE DEAN OF STUDENTS' OFFICE.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT POLICY

Any successful learning experience requires mutual respect on the part of the student and the instructor. Neither instructor nor student should be subject to others' behavior that is rude, disruptive, intimidating, aggressive, or demeaning. Student conduct that disrupts the learning process or is deemed disrespectful or threatening shall not be tolerated and may lead to disciplinary action and/or removal from class.

"Failure to comply with the lawful direction of a classroom teacher relative to maintaining good order is considered misconduct on the part of the student. Repeated violations of disrupting a class will result in the student being dropped from the course" (South Plains College Student Guide).

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Any student needing individual counseling for issues such as depression, anxiety, adjustment to college, stress management, and substance abuse may visit the Health and Wellness Center to chat, confidentially, with licensed mental health professionals who provide services free of charge to current SPC students. Call or visit on Levelland Campus 806-716-2529 from 8:00 am – 4:00 pm. Students wanting to set up a counseling session will have an option to be seen face-to-face on any campus or via teleconference.

Any student in need of food or other essentials may visit the food pantry. Students can contact Dee Dee Odorizzi (806-716-2236) for more information.
