History 1302

Department of History

Department: Social Sciences

Discipline: History

Course Number: HISTORY 1302

Course Title: United States History II

Credit: 3 Lecture, 0 Lab

Satisfies a core curriculum requirement? Yes, American History

Prerequisites: TSI compliance in Reading

Available Formats: Conventional, INET, ITV

Campus: Levelland, Reese, ATC, Plainview

Textbook: Varies according to instructor.

Course Specific Instructions: Each instructor will attach his/her course with specific instructions.

Course Description: A survey of the social, political, economic, cultural, and intellectual history of the United States from the Civil War/Reconstruction era to the present. United States History II examines industrialization, immigration, world wars, the Great Depression, Cold War and post-Cold War eras. Themes that may be addressed in United States History II include: American culture, religion, civil and human rights, technological change, economic change, immigration and migration, urbanization and suburbanization, the expansion of the federal government, and the study of U.S. foreign policy.

Course Objectives addressed:

1. critical thinking: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information.
2. communication: to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication.
3. social responsibility: to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities.
4. personal responsibility: to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making.

Course Purpose: To acquaint students with the diversity of American history and to promote critical thinking in interrelating the past to the present. Fundamentally, the course promotes general understanding of a body of knowledge any literate person should possess about the history of his own country.

Course Requirements: To maximize a student's potential to complete this course, he/she should attend all class meetings, complete all homework assignments and examinations in a timely manner, and complete all other projects or papers as assigned in the instructor's specific instructions.

Course Evaluation: See the instructor's course information sheet for specific items used in evaluating student performance.

Attendance Policy: Whenever absences become excessive and in the instructor's opinion, minimum course objectives cannot be met due to absences, the student will be withdrawn from the course. Each instructor will have additional information about attendance on his/her course information sheet.

Learning Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course, students should be familiar with the evolution of American political, social, and economic institutions and traditions from the arrival of Europeans to the mid-nineteenth century. This would include the ability to:

- Create an argument through the use of historical evidence.
- Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources.
- Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural, and global forces on this period of United States history.

WHAT: HIST1302

History 1302 is a general survey course of the significant events in the history of the United States spanning from the close of the American Civil War through the early twenty-first century (1865-2020). The course will emphasize the political, economic, geographic, and social changes that influenced each period of the nation's history. HIST 1302 will include, but is not limited to: Reconstruction & Industrialization, American Imperialism, Progressive Movements, World War I, The Jazz Age & Interwar Era, The Great Depression, World War II, The Cold War, Civil Rights & The Great Society, Vietnam & the Conservative Revival, and Millennial America.

TEXTBOOK:

The Unfinished Nation: A Concise History of the American People

Brinkley, 10e

A digital version of the textbook is attached to your tuition and fees for this class; if you would like a hardcopy of the book, the SPC Bookstore can help you order one.

SUPPLEMENTAL MATERIALS:

I will occasionally assign additional readings such as journal articles, primary sources, or videos. Those will always be posted digitally to Blackboard for the appropriate week.

WHY:

“We are not makers of history. We are made by history.” --Martin Luther King, Jr. (1963)

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes:

- Identify political, economic, geographic, and social characteristics of eras in American history.
- Analyze the connections between past events and the context in which they occurred.
- Examine and analyze primary and secondary sources to better understand the issues and events surrounding eras in American history.
- Develop research and critical reading skills.
- Develop argumentative writing skills and implement proper grammar and mechanics to communicate in writing.
- Effectively express one's ideas and interpretations of the past through class discussions and written assignments.
- Receive appropriately and consider the ideas and interpretations of others about the past.

HOW:

Students will be evaluated on evidence of content understanding through skills assignments, a written term paper, quizzes, and tests. In addition, excellent scholarly citizenship is considered a skill for all students and will be evaluated at the end of the semester.

Grading Categories	Grading Breakdown
SmartBook Readings: Using the online textbook, students will complete SmartBook guided reading modules. These are essential to understanding the key elements of American History. SmartBook guided reading can be repeated until a student gains mastery of the key concepts. All SmartBook assignments will take 45-60 minutes to complete.	5 @ 30 points = 150
Discussion Leadership: Students are expected to demonstrate an understanding of the historical topics under consideration. Leaders will actively engage their peers by fostering dynamic discussion. Participation should extend beyond mere verbal contributions, encompassing responses to peers' comments and posing insightful questions to stimulate further discussion. Additionally, leaders are encouraged to incorporate relevant historical evidence and sources into their discourse, promoting a well-rounded and evidence-based exploration of the subject matter. In addition, students will be assigned credit for active participation in discussions led by all peer groups throughout the semester.	Discussion Elements <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Lead discussion on assigned day (60 points)• Active participation credit (40 points) 100 points
History Labs: The work of historians includes two main skills: (1) critically reading primary and secondary source materials and (2) analytical writing about such materials and the past. We will apply these skills to class content throughout the semester. These are completed DURING CLASS.	10 @ 30 points = 300
Written Term Paper: Students will draft a final paper based on research of primary and secondary source materials. The writing process will be addressed in class and students will be given the opportunity to attend writing workshops and assistance in the drafting and revising process. The requirements for paper length and content will be distributed in the second week of class. The paper consists of several checkpoint grades that combine for a total of 250 points	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Precis- 100 points• Source Workshop 40 points• Annotated Bibliography 20 points• Outline + 1st Draft 20 points• Final Paper 100 points• Writing Center Visit 10 points• Office Hours Visit 10 points 300 points total
Quizzes: Quizzes will be based primarily on assigned reading. However, some quizzes may include content from class discussions and additional materials from in-class meetings. Quizzes may include multiple-choice and/or short-answer responses. One cannot expect to do well on quizzes if one does not read the book or attend class.	5 Quizzes @ 50 points each 250 points
Grading Summary: A= 1100-900 points B= 899-800 points C= 799-700 points D= 699-600 points F= 599-0 points	Total Points Available- 1100 *Please note, there is a "bonus" of 200 points over the 900 required for an "A." This is intentional and serves as a built-in method to recover credit for lower grades. Please do not ask for "extra credit" or make up work as it is built into the grading categories.

Everything Else:

Academic Dishonesty:

Academic dishonesty commonly comes in the form of cheating or plagiarism both of which are addressed below, however, twenty-first-century students are clever in finding new ways to avoid doing work. Therefore, it is at the instructor's discretion to determine what qualifies as academic dishonesty and respond accordingly. Academic dishonesty can result in reduced credit, a zero, withdrawal from the course, or disciplinary action as outlined in the SPC code of conduct.

- Cheating: Cheating can include using unpermitted materials to complete an assignment, quiz, or test. Copying answers from another student or past class materials, or allowing others to use your class materials for their own nefarious purposes. Students must acknowledge all work assigned is to be completed individually unless otherwise noted.
- Plagiarism: Plagiarism is the intentional or unintentional use of another person's written or creative work without proper citation or credit. More accurately it is, "an act or instance of using or closely imitating the language and thoughts of another author without authorization and the representation of that author's work as one's own, as by not crediting the original author."¹ In other words, if you copy someone else's work (including internet sources) and claim you wrote it, you are plagiarizing. This includes AI technology such as OpenAI, ChatGPT, or similar programs. This is a serious offense and will be handled accordingly. Do not waste my time with plagiarism, my time on earth is limited and tracking down copied Wikipedia articles is not how I want to use minutes of this finite existence. If I am forced to do so, I will be angry, bitter, and lacking in mercy. Consider yourself warned. ALERT Instructors have digital tools and the basic intelligence to easily detect plagiarism, you WILL get caught eventually and the consequences can damage your collegiate career, so just don't do it. If you have questions about how to use a source or quote another person's work, I would be happy to meet with you during office hours and help you work through that. The world has been full of brilliant people who wrote brilliant things, it is ok to use their ideas to build your own, BUT you must give those brilliant people credit for their work.

Absences/Late or Missed Assignments:

- Attendance/Absences: Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class meeting. While absences are not calculated into the final grade, attendance is required for participation in class discussions and history lab assignments. I will not offer make-up assignments or points unless the instructor determines there is a reasonably qualifying emergency or illness.

*Student-Athletes or Extracurricular Participants: If you have a scheduled absence that interferes with a class assignment or deadline, it is your responsibility to submit the assignment before you depart. Late work will not be accepted for school trips or extracurricular activities.

- Late Work: Late work will not be accepted without a documented emergency, illness, or verified problem with the Blackboard server. Again, if there is a problem submitting an assignment it is the responsibility of the student to contact the instructor via email BEFORE the deadline passes. All late assignments meeting the criteria above are subject to reduced credit.

Classroom Etiquette:

Students and the instructor agree to maintain the following at all times:

1. Respectful engagement: Contribute to discussions with thoughtful insights and active listening, valuing diverse perspectives within a supportive environment. This is also modeled by avoiding use of distracting technology such as smartwatches, phones, headphones/earbuds, or unrelated use of laptops, iPads, or other devices.
2. Timely preparation & participation: Arrive punctually, having completed assigned readings or tasks, ready to participate and learn actively. Avoid leaving early or moving in and out of the classroom in a way that distracts others.
3. Courteous interaction: Maintain a respectful demeanor towards classmates and the instructor, fostering an atmosphere of mutual respect and kindness.
4. Constructive dialogue: Encourage healthy debate and discussion while refraining from disruptive behavior or personal attacks.
5. Academic integrity: Uphold honesty and integrity in all academic endeavors, citing sources accurately and adhering to the course's guidelines on plagiarism and citation.

Technology Statement: Technology failures or difficulties are not valid excuses for late or missed assignments unless it is a verifiable Blackboard server problem. If you are submitting an assignment minutes before a deadline and there is a technical problem, that is an unfortunate consequence of procrastination. In other words, do not wait until the last minute to submit an assignment. An excellent scholarly citizen turns in work in a timely manner that allows for solving any technical problems. Furthermore, it is the responsibility of the student to double-check that all assignments are posted or submitted properly.
